Roswell Park Cancer Institute (RPCI), founded in 1898 and located in Upstate New York is the nation's first cancer research, treatment and education center. A National Cancer Institute-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center, RPCI is also a member of the prestigious National Comprehensive Cancer Network. This is an exciting time to be an oncology nurse, especially at RPCI.

Our mission focuses exclusively on cancer treatment, prevention, research, and education, so our nurses have the opportunity to develop highly specialized expertise. They are also helping shape the future of cancer care as key members of Roswell Park teams involved with robotic surgery, clinical research studies of promising new cancer treatments, and powerful information systems. Nurses at Roswell Park discover a working environment that is very different from most other hospitals.

Our nurses value their roles in comforting and supporting patients and their families as they confront the worry, confusion, and distress that follow a diagnosis of cancer. Nurses are at the heart of Roswell Park's emphasis on compassionate care. If you're interested in joining the team or would like to learn more about the opportunities we offer, please contact our recruitment/retention coordinator at (716) 845-1042, or visit our website at www.roswellpark.org.

Cathleen Seebald, MS, NP-C, RN
Nurse Practitioner-Information Technology,
RPCI Nurse for 12 years

Cathy sought employment at RPCI to utilize all of her assessment skills, which include considering the uniqueness of her patients. "The ability to impact the patient's quality of life by identifying and in most cases improving the patient's daily symptoms is personally rewarding." She stays at Roswell because the culture is very comprehensive...the totality of the person is part of their treatment; they are not just a cancer diagnosis." Cathy became involved in the EMR Project to make things better and recognized this was the perfect venue to do so. Patient care and all the users of the EMR benefit from implementing this project."

Thomas Hand, BSN, RN
Nurse II 5E, RPCI Nurse 1 year

When Tom was getting close to graduating from the University of South Carolina, he was looking at his nursing options around the country. He considered Roswell because family and friends said "RPCI is above the rest." Tom interviewed and toured the facility. He liked the feel. Tom continues his nursing career at RPCI "because of the wonderful patients and great work environment!"

Pam Dunn, RN
Nurse II 7W, RPCI Nurse 2 years
RPCI Employee 8 years

Pam began working at RPCI in 2000, as a laboratory technician/phlebotomist. In 2004, she went back to school and graduates with an AAS in nursing in 2006. Pam works as a nurse on a GI/GU postoperative floor. She has realized over the years that RPCI is more than a place to go to work. "It is a place that welcomes it's patients with open arms and a smile to carry them through a part of their life's journey. . . I feel privileged to be a part of my patients' lives during a vulnerable time."

Marion Skipper, BSN, RN
Clinical Research Nurse in Lymphoma
Medicine, RPCI Nurse 31 years

Marion has had a long and varied career at RPCI. When asked why she stays at the "Park," the answer is "I like what I do." She has seen the medical field and nursing move from lymphangiograms to PET Scans; inpatient treatments become outpatient care. With her longevity, Marion has had a pivotal role in this process. She hopes that "along the way I touched as many lives they have touched mine."
